A truly unique riverside residence occupying a delightful picturesque setting with over 160ft of private frontage onto the River Waveney, all within walking distance of the centre of this well-regarded and well-served market town.

Thought to have been built in the 1960s then updated and extended in the early 2000s, and recently re-clad, this incredibly deceptive waterside home offers far more than can be seen from a first glance.

The single storey accommodation comprises an entrance hall, generous sitting room with panoramic river views, dual aspect dining room with wood burner, fitted kitchen, two bedrooms, bathroom and an L-shaped conservatory providing both a utility area and more living space with views out over the garden.

The peaceful and private gardens are set in the shadow of the iconic Bungay Watermill and offer beautiful views over a particularly quiet and unspoilt body of water, a haven to local wildlife and birdlife, with an incredible selection of specimen fish clearly on display and resident in the garden stretch of the river.

Full of character and charm, suitable as a permanent residence or a perfectly placed second home/holiday let, an early viewing is highly recommended.

Occupying pride of place, enjoying an elevated position looking out over the river, is the summerhouse/workshop. Understood to have been relocated from its original home sited on the Staithe Road, where, during the 1960s and 1970s it was well-known locally as "Lucie's Sweet Shop". This generous timber outbuilding has power and light connected and leads itself to a number of uses and could even be adapted to provide additional guest accommodation (subject to planning permission).

The garden is laid mainly to lawn with a raised patio, two timber sheds and a log store, and 90ft of private river frontage offering the perfect spot from which to enjoy fishing, canoeing, sailing (this stretch of river is suitable for non-powered craft) or simply to appreciate the peace and quiet that comes with life on the river.
